Quidos Equal Opportunities Policy

Introduction:

We aim to provide high-quality services that meet customer needs and aspirations, supporting and developing our staff, and managing our resources effectively and responsibly working in partnership with stakeholders and local communities.

The aim of this policy is to encourage dedication and respect amongst individuals maximising the performance and the return to the employer and the employees. The aim of diversity is to help to ensure that people are valued and have the same access to all opportunities whatever their differences. This policy also provides protection and security for individuals who experience discrimination by association with someone who has a protected characteristic in the workplace.

Policy statement:

Quidos recognises and accepts its legal obligations under the Equality Act 2010. Under this Act, age, disability, gender reassignment, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion or belief, sex and sexual orientation are protected characteristics. Employees, other workers and applicants for employment who have one or more of these characteristics are protected from all forms of unlawful discrimination in the workplace, including: direct and indirect discrimination; discrimination by association; discrimination by perception; discrimination arising from disability; harassment; and victimisation. Quidos is determined to employ a workforce that reflects the diverse community at large because we value the individual contribution of people.

Quidos have implemented a structured approach to Equality & Diversity and will continue to maintain and improve on our coordinated and structured approach to promoting equality of opportunity across all the protected characteristics including, but not limited to, the ones listed above.

This policy applies to all persons working for us or on our behalf in any capacity, including employees at all levels, directors, officers, agency workers, seconded workers, volunteers, agents, contractors and suppliers. It is the responsibility of every employee to ensure their own conduct conforms to the expected standards and reflects these policy statements.

All employees will be treated with dignity and respect. Quidos recognises that harassment, bullying and victimisation are forms of unlawful discrimination and are dealt with professionally under the bullying policy.

Any employee who believes that they may have been subjected to treatment that breaches this policy may raise the matter through Quidos management team reporting to their line manager. Quidos will monitor and review the operation of this policy and will implement any changes required by law or to improve its effectiveness regularly critically analysing its benefits and introducing improvements.

Quidos undertakes to review its employment practices, policies and procedures, including opportunities for training and promotion, pay and benefits, discipline, selection for redundancy and retirement, to ensure that it avoids all forms of unlawful discrimination in the workplace. Quidos takes harassment seriously any claims will be dealt with by the HR department. Any corporate behaviour resulting in harassment which may be unwanted conduct related to a protected characteristic. However, a person does not have to possess a protected characteristic to be a victim of harassment. Individuals who are subjected to harassment because of their association with someone who has a protected characteristic can also be victims. Quidos will make reasonable adjustments to its recruitment and selection arrangements and procedures to ensure that no applicant for employment is disadvantaged because of a disability.

Our commitment:

Through effective governance and operational management we are committed to promoting

- equality, diversity and social inclusion amongst our stakeholders, customers, clients, staff and all those we work with challenging and eliminating unlawful discrimination, harassment and victimization treating everyone with dignity, fairness and respect at all times

IMPLEMENTATION AND COMMUNICATION

Responsibilities of management:

Responsibility for ensuring the effective implementation of the policy and operation of the arrangements will rest with the Managing Director. Directors and Managers who ensure that they and their staff operate within this policy and arrangements, and that all reasonable and practical steps are taken to avoid discrimination. Each manager will ensure that:

- all their staff are aware of the policy and the arrangements, and the reasons for the policy.
- grievances concerning discrimination are dealt with properly, fairly and as quickly as possible in accordance with our Policy (Staff Handbook).
- appropriate records are maintained.
- the policy and the arrangements are communicated to all respective partners, consultants, subcontractors and suppliers.
- that guidance and information on our approach and general information on equality, diversity and inclusion is available in each department/on each site as appropriate.

Responsibilities of staff:

Responsibility for ensuring that there is no unlawful discrimination rests with all staff and the attitudes of staff are crucial to the successful delivery of fair employment practices. In particular, all members of staff should:

- comply with the policy and arrangements
- not discriminate in their day to day activities or induce others to do so
- not victimize, harass or intimidate other staff, individuals or groups who have, or are perceived to have one of the protected characteristics.
- ensure no individual is discriminated against or harassed because of their association with another individual who has a protected characteristic.
- inform their manager if they become aware of any discriminatory practice.

Equality training:

Training will be given to all staff as part of our Induction process and repeated as necessary.

Training will be provided for managers on this policy and the associated arrangements. All managers who have an involvement in the recruitment and selection process will receive specialist training.

Monitoring:

The Management Team are responsible for monitoring the operation of the policy and the arrangements, by reviewing reports on periodic departmental audits, in respect of:

- employees – this will involve the routine collection and analysis of information on employees by race, sex, disability, age, gender identity/reassignment, religion or belief, sexual orientation, marriage and civil partnership, and pregnancy and maternity, grade and length of service in current grade. Information regarding the number of staff who declare themselves as disabled will also be maintained.
- job applicants – there will also be regular assessments to measure the extent to which recruitment to first appointment, internal promotion and access to training/development opportunities affect equal opportunities for all groups.
- the information collected for monitoring purposes will be treated as confidential and it will not be used for any other purpose. If monitoring shows that the company, or areas within it, are not representative, or that sections of our workforce are not progressing properly within the organisation, then an action plan will be developed to address these issues. This will include a review of recruitment and selection procedures, policies and practices as well as consideration of taking legal Positive Action.
- our service standards and customer involvement
- customer profiling/segmentation, with reference to targeting at-risk groups to match service provision to customer needs.
- procurement strategy and practices.
- equality impact assessments, considering alternative ideas and reporting on results/lessons learnt.
- harassment and bullying.
- reviewing the performance and setting of equality objectives at least every four years together with equality information annually, to demonstrate our compliance with the Equality Act 2010.

Review:

The effectiveness of this policy and associated arrangements will be reviewed every two years, or earlier in the event of significant social, demographic, legal or regulatory changes.

ACTIONS IN DETAIL:

Religion or Belief:

We will promote the understanding and mutual respect amongst those with or without religious beliefs.

We will comply with all legislation seeking to promote understanding and mutual respect between religious groups.

Specifically:

- we will avoid arranging appointments or meetings on days having religious significance for the individual/s concerned.
- we will assess our policies to ensure that they do not have an indirect or direct effect on any religious group.

- we will consider how we can work with local religious groups/agencies to promote understanding and mutual respect.
- We will work to eliminate religious intolerance among or against our staff, customers and contacts.
- we will provide guidance to staff to promote a better understanding of religious traditions found in the communities in which we work.
- we will request information regarding the religious, or other, beliefs held by the customer groups to which we are delivering a service.

Race or ethnicity:

We will promote good relations between varying ethnic, racial and cultural backgrounds.

We will implement all legislation seeking to eliminate discrimination and promote understanding, equality and good relations between people from varying ethnic origins, racial groups and cultural backgrounds.

- we will train staff to avoid the promotion of racial stereotypes.
- we will request information regarding the race and ethnicity of the customer groups and communities to which we are delivering a service.
- we will provide information in different languages (to be identified by the above).
- we will assess our policies to ensure they do not have an unequal effect (directly or indirectly) on any ethnic group/s.
- we will act quickly and effectively to challenge and eliminate harassment, bullying or prejudice.
- we will provide assistance wherever necessary to ensure everyone has fair and equal access to the services provided by us on behalf of the client.
- we will promote race equality amongst our staff, sub-contractors, suppliers and consultants and others that we may be working with.

Disability:

We will ensure that disabled people benefit from our services in the same way as all others.

We will ensure our staff, sub-contractors, suppliers, consultants and others that we are working with are aware of their obligations under the latest codes of practice and legislation.

We promote a positive attitude towards the disabled and ensure our staff are aware of our duty to make reasonable adaptations to facilities or to provide alternative facilities to enable disabled people to access services; this may be treating the disabled more favourably.

- we will monitor to ensure our policy is followed and is achieving the desired results.
- we will train staff to understand the definition of “disabled person” which includes physical disability, hearing loss, visual impairment, learning disability or mental health issues.
- we will request information regarding the disability status of the customers to which we are delivering a service in order that we can ensure the service takes their needs into account.
- we will encourage job applicants and staff to tell us about any disability.
- we will regularly review policies and procedures to ensure that the needs of disabled people are considered.
- We will regularly review our premises, facilities and literature and adapt them as necessary to ensure they are accessible to disabled people.
- we will train our staff to understand their obligations towards disabled people and the duty to make reasonable adjustments to the work or the environment.

Sexuality:

We will comply with all legislation that supports equality, diversity and the inclusion of people of different sexual orientation.

- we will train staff to promote positive attitudes towards gay, lesbian and transgender individuals and groups.
- we will ensure our policies recognize the rights of same sex partner relationships.
- Promote equal opportunities for gay lesbian and transgender individuals and groups.
- we will request information regarding the sexual orientation of our customers to ensure that we are aware of any possible discrimination.
- we will take disciplinary action against staff who harass or discriminate against individuals due to their sexual orientation.
- we will review policies and procedures to improve equality of opportunity for gay, lesbian and transgender individuals.

Age:

Age is the only protected characteristic by which Quidos as an organisation can justify direct discrimination, because the employer can argue that treating someone differently because of their age is allowed as long as it means the employer is doing it to meet a legitimate aim. Quidos requires energy assessors to be over the legal age of 18.

We will ensure we do not restrict people on the grounds of age without basis and we will comply with all legislation and codes of practice.

Gender & Gender reassignment:

We will promote equal opportunities for all gender groups eliminating unlawful discrimination and harassment. We will ensure that our staff, customers and others we come into contact with are not discriminated against due to their gender whether it be male, female or transgender.

- we will review pay structures to ensure that we pay equally.
- we will set targets for achieving gender equality in representation at all levels within the organisation.
- we will train staff to promote positive attitudes towards all gender groups.
- we will assess the impact of current and proposed policies and procedures on gender equality.

Marriage & civil partnership:

We will promote equal opportunities for all partnerships eliminating unlawful discrimination and harassment. We will ensure that our staff, customers and others we come into contact with are not discriminated against due to the status of their partnership.

- we will review pay structures to ensure that we pay equally.
- we will train staff to promote positive attitudes towards all partnerships.
- we will assess the impact of current and proposed policies and procedures on partnership equality.

Pregnancy & maternity:

We will not restrict people on the grounds of Pregnancy or maternity and we will comply with all legislation and codes of practice.

- we will train staff in the law relating to our obligations in respect Pregnancy & maternity.
- we will ensure that our services are not unfairly allocated on the grounds of Pregnancy or maternity.

- we will invite job applications from all qualified individuals.
- we will ensure that there are no limitations imposed by contracts we are requested to enter into.
- we will regularly review policies and procedures to ensure that they do not adversely affect staff or the recipients of our services.
- we will continue to employ and provide services to all.
